

Inspiration for The Samantha Invitational

Each year in October, we remember and honor our daughter, Samantha Marie Foutch, with friends, family, co-workers and guests. Sammy was the victim of a tragic homicide just a couple months shy of her 10th birthday. This year marks the 14th anniversary we've been without her vibrant personality, warm hugs and easy smile. Sammy was more than a daughter, sister, cousin, niece, granddaughter and friend; she was also an honor roll student, gymnast and comedian; but most of all she was loved and now is deeply missed.

We have had the great fortune of meeting and partnering with an organization that gives freely of their valuable expertise, time, energy, and love. Stepping Stones of Hope (SSOH) helps grieving children and adults cope with the loss of their loved one. Through therapeutic camps, after camp support groups and educational outreach, SSOH is dedicated to providing comprehensive support-based programs, continuum of care and education to grieving children, families, and communities.

Because of the participants and contributors to The Samantha Invitational, the 7th annual Camp Samantha will be held in July allowing nearly 100 attendees to spend a therapeutic weekend learning valuable skills their families need as they navigate the new path their lives are on.

Clay will once again assumed the role as Camp Director and lead the kids camp. The kids are always amazing and we take away more than we gave. Clay opens with, "I am sorry that you are all here, this is a fraternity none of us wanted to be a part of. And though you find yourself on a new path, our family is here to share with you that there can be healing and happiness in your family's future. And that our family and our friends are proof that you can learn to re-invest your emotional energy into something wonderful that forever honors your loved one."

This camp is simply not possible without you and we thank each of you for your consideration in participating in this year's event. See everyone October 6th!

Sincerely,

Clay and Christina Foutch
